

COAL AT THREE FIFTY PER TON IS NOT CERTAIN

Report "Fair Price" to Be Announced a That Figure Not Confirmed

SUIT IS UNCERTAIN

Operators Have Not Yet Sought Injunction Against Officials

Columbus, Sept. 29.—The report that the "fair coal prices" to be announced and made effective probably early next week by State Fuel Administrator Neal will fix a price of $3.50 per ton at Ohio mines, has not been confirmed by Administrator Neal nor his aides. Neither is there any confirmation of the rumor that Ohio coal operators will institute suit seeking to have the courts enjoin state officials from enforcing the "fair prices" and various provisions of the recently enacted Ohio "fair coal price" emergency law.

An alleged buyers' strike and purchases on a "hand to mouth" basis by domestic and industrial consumers, it is claimed caused a slump in the fuel trade with the result that coal which sold at $6, or more, per ton four weeks ago at the mines is being offered today as low as $4.10.

COAL OPERATORS SEEK INJUNCTION ON FUEL AGENCY

Claim Anti-Profiteering Clause of Act is Un-constitutional.

Washington, Sept. 29.—Information reached Government officials today that a group of bituminous coal operators was planning to ask for an injunction against the federal distribution agency on the ground that the so-called anti-profiteering clause of the Cummins-Winslow act is unconstitutional.

The application for a restraining order will not be filed on behalf of the national coal association, but individual operators are understood to be prepared to undertake the suit.

These operators are said to oppose the provision in the law under which the interstate commerce commission may refuse to permit the use of cars for the transportation of coal contracted for in excess of a "fair price."

CHARGE BLACKMAIL WAS ATTEMPTED, GREEK IS HELD

Cincinnati, Sept. 29.—Pete Callas, 23, an unattractive Greek of 731 Cherry Avenue, Canton, O., was arrested last night in a saloon on John street after Tony Arkel, the proprietor, complained to city detectives that the man attempted to blackmail him. Callas is held on suspicion pending filing of charges against him by Arkel.

He told the police he formerly was employed as a state prohibition officer and that he had assisted in a raid two months ago on Arkel's place which resulted in a fine of $1,000 for the owner but that he was without a job now. Arkel said he demanded $100 last night for vinking at alleged conditions in the saloon, but accepted $25 and was to return for more. When Callas came back detectives were waiting with a trap of marked bills and placed him under arrest.

Panic followed.

The accident happened at the closing of the celebration of the feast of St. Cosmo Damiano. The streets were filled with people when some one was said to have thrown a bomb into the air. It failed to explode in midair but went off with a terrific roar when it struck the pavement.

CABINET CRISIS IN JAPAN NEAR: EXPOSURE MADE

Sale of Arms to Government in Vladivostok is Admitted.

KATO IS AFFECTED

Believe Purpose Was to Create Buffer State Between Chita and Japan

Tokio, Sept. 29.—Advices from Siberia, state fighting already has started between the red forces and the whites, the former preparing to take the city of Vladivostok as soon as it is evacuated by the Japanese. Spasok is about to fall to the Chita forces, these advices stated. Thorough investigation has revealed that press charges that the general staff in Siberia disposed of a large quantity of arms to the Dietrichs government in Vladivostok and to Chang Tse Lin, Chinese war lord, are substantially correct and may result in a cabinet crisis.

The government today admitted that arms entrusted to the care of the Japanese in Vladivostok when the Czechoslovakian forces evacuated Siberia have disappeared having been sold to Chang Tse Lin for ten million yen. The government will pay Czechoslovakia and a movement has already been started to courtmartial the Siberian command. That an intrigue in the general staff exists is the belief of the government.

The acceptance of responsibility in the arms scandal is believed here to mean the ultimate resignation of the Kato cabinet as the section of the Japanese press making the exposure is pro-Seiryu Kai and it is believed that Seiryu Kai party is on the inside of the agitation and that the exposure was meant to destroy the cabinet.

It is claimed in the Japanese press that the sale of the Vladivostok arms followed the breaking up of the Chang Chung conference and was for the purpose of permitting General Dietrichs and Chang Tse Lin to maintain a buffer state between Chita and Japan.

There is some question as to the value of the arms and ammunition as they had been in storage for five years.

MURPHY STILL HAS KEY TO PUZZLE IN NEW YORK POLITICS

Series of All-Night Conferences With Tammany Leader is Held

Syracuse, N. Y., Sept. 29.—Charles F. Murphy, the sphynx like leader of Tammany Hall, still held the key to the Democratic gubernatorial puzzle this morning with the time for nomination of the entire state ticket only a matter of hours away.

A series of all-night conferences between the Tammany leader, the upstate backers of ex-Gov. Al Smith and the down state friends of William R. Hearst, the New York publisher, failed to bring any definite announcement from Tammany headquarters that the divergent elements of the party have been brought together. The negotiations were still in progress this morning, however.

Friends of the ex-governor say that Smith "will accept no compromise." They expressed confidence that the nomination will yet fall to the ex-governor.

Those who have consistently urged the nomination of Mr. Hearst, among them Mayor Hylan and John H. McCooey, the Brooklyn leader, were more confident this morning than at any time that the publisher would be selected to head the ticket.

"It is a difficult situation," said Mayor Hylan early today after emerging from a conference with Murphy, "but I believe Mr. Hearst will be nominated."

At the same time William H. Keller, the Syracuse leader, informed questioners: "I see no reason to yanking athridu athridu atmfwypatpi Smith will be nominated."

MOVE TO ENDORSE FORD'S CANDIDACY FAILS AT MEETING

Michigan Democratic Convention Decides Action is Premature.

Bay City, Mich., Sept. 29.—A movement to endorse Henry Ford as a presidential candidate in 1924 failed at the Democratic state convention here yesterday when the resolutions committee decided such action would be "premature and too far in advance of the election." The proposal sponsored by the delegation from Adrian, which included S. W. Raymond, a brother-in-law of the Detroit manufacturer, precipitated a fight in the resolutions committee.

Those opposing the movement held that endorsement of Mr. Ford would make the presidential issue the dominating feature of the coming campaign in Michigan and detract from the strength of Woodbridge N. Ferris, the party's nominee for senator. Supporters of the resolution argued that Henry Ford was the real instigator of what they termed "the Newberry issue."

Mr. Ford came in for mention in the report of the resolutions committee, however, when it commended his stand on the coal problem.

PROVIDE EXTRA GUARDS AT TOBACCO WAREHOUSE

Cincinnati Sept. 29.—Arrangements were being made Friday to provide extra guards for the Kenton House Leaf Tobacco Company warehouse in Covington, where the tri-state tobacco fair is to be held in October, following the receipt of anonymous threats that the building would be burned if plans for holding the fair in it were not cancelled. The loose leaf company is the largest concern in this vicinity outside the burley tobacco pool, which claims 90 percent of the farmers in Kenton county in its membership. The farm bureau of the county recently went on record as being opposed to the fair.

EXPECT REIGN OF GEORGE IN GREECE SHORT

Venizelos Likely to Be First President of Republic

Athens, Sept. 29.—Constantine, abdicated king of Greece, former Queen Sophie, Prince Nicholas and Prince Andrew were secretly taken on board a warship and have departed for some unknown destination, it was reliably reported today.

The temporary revolutionary triumvirate composed of Col. Gonatas Col. Plastras and Captain Phocas are meeting almost continuously discussing plans for the military defense of Thrace against the Turks and the recall of former Premier Venizelos.

Political circles believe that the reign of King George will be brief and that a republic will be established. Revolutionary leaders in communication with Venizelos in France. The former premier may be the first Greek president if the republican faction is successful.

Paris, Sept. 29.—Ex-Premier Eleutherios Venizelos of Greece arrived at noon from Deauville to seek allied support for the revolutionary movement in Greece.

It was understood that Venizelos planned to confer with French officials at the foreign office in an effort to reconcile them to the plan of the Greek revolutionaries to defend Thrace against Turkish occupation. Friends of Venizelos said he had been in telephone communication with representatives of the Greek revolutionary movement in Paris before deciding to come here to press his requests in person.

French secret service agents met Venizelos at the St. Lazare railway station to protect him from assassins. The Greek statesman was accompanied only by his wife. He left his staff at Deauville. He will return to Deauville shortly according to present plans.

Michigan Democratic Convention Decides Action is Premature.

Bay City, Mich., Sept. 29.—A movement to endorse Henry Ford as a presidential candidate in 1924 failed at the Democratic state convention here yesterday when the resolutions committee decided such action would be "premature and too far in advance of the election." RUSSIA LIKELY TO JOIN TURKS: SULTAN IS OUT

Soviet Strengthening Southern Army Reports Now Indicate

WORST IS FEARED

Mohammed VI Reported to Have Abdicated in Favor of Cousin

London, Sept. 29.—Fear of British officials that reorganization of the red army in South Russia means Russian military aid for the Turks is groundless, it was declared this afternoon by Alex Rothstein, representative of the Moscow government in London.

"Russia has not taken any military steps in the Near East," said Rothstein. "So long as Russia is invited to the Near East peace conference and there is no interference with Russian trade we do not think Constantinople worth the blood of a single Russian soldier. Russia is not preparing to help Turkey."

Constantinople, Sept. 29.—Mustapha Kemal Pasha, commander in chief of the Turkish nationalist army and president of the national assembly at Angora, today sent a communication to Gen. Sir Charles Harrington informing him that the Turkish troops were under orders to hold the positions they have already occupied in the neutral zone on the Turkish straits.

London, Sept. 29.—The anxiety of the British cabinet over the Near East situation was heightened today by news that the Russian soviet government was reorganizing and strengthening its southern army with the possibility of joining the Turks.

The British cabinet is meeting daily to consider "war plans." It is reported that the government has placed tentative orders for war materials, mostly munitions. Most of the British officials have little faith in Mustapha Kemal Pasha. They suspect he is delaying his reply to the allied peace note for the purpose of gaining time to strengthen his forces around the allied neutral zone on the Turkish straits.

The British forces on the Dardanelles and in and around Constantinople have been increased to the following totals:

Troops—35,000.

War craft—38 dreadnoughts, battle cruisers, destroyers and submarines. Members of the cabinet declared positively that Britain would not entertain any suggestion of the passage of Turkish troops through the neutral zone into Thrace.

The Greek revolutionary committee at Athens is trying to strengthen the Greek army in Thrace and it is regarded as certain that if the Turks were allowed to cross over into Europe at this time a clash between Greek and Turkish troops would follow.

Up to noon the British foreign office had no official dispatches from Constantinople bearing upon the reported abdication of the Sultan, but the report was generally believed. Kemal has been demanding the retirement of Sultan Mohammed VI, on the ground he was only a tool of the allies.

Constantinople, Sept. 29.—Revolution in Greece, abdication of King Constantine, determination of the Greek revolutionary committee to defend Thrace against the Turks, reported abdication of Sultan Mohammed VI of Turkey and the stubborn attitude of the Turkish Nationalists who continue to occupy the neutral zone on the straits, have complicated the Near East situation so dangerous, it was impossible today to make a decisive forecast of peace or war.

Mohammed VI was said to have abdicated in favor of his cousin, Prince Abdul Medjid Effendi, the heir apparent. The Sultan is sick and is in seclusion.

The Kemalists have occupied nearly all the neutral zones and have the British at Chanak surrounded on three sides. In some places the Turks have advanced with white flags to prevent the British from firing upon them. It was reported that shots had been exchanged on Thursday but this is not officially confirmed.

Mustapha Kemal Pasha is believed to have departed from Smyrna for Angora to confer with members of the nationalist assembly. A report was current at the same time to the effect that Kemal has drafted a reply to the allied note of last Saturday and will ask the assembly to approve it. This communication is said to demand the right to occupy strategic points in Thrace; also

- 1.—Cessation of British reinforcements;
- 2.—Occupation of all eastern Thrace by the Turks before the near east peace conference;
- 3.—Demilitarization of the sea of Marmara;
- 4.—Russian participation in the preliminary armistice conference.

DRY NAVY WILL NOT BE PARED BY NEW RULING

Harding's Decision On Three-Mile Limit Not to Affect Strength

Washington, Sept. 29.—"The prohibition navy," restricted to the three mile limit, by new treasury orders to prevent further international disputes over foreign ship seizures will not be reduced in strength, it was officially stated today. All the boats now in service will be used for patrolling waters, although a few may do "observation duty" beyond the three mile zone. These vessels, however, will scrupulously observe the new orders not to molest, foreign ships, even though they are suspected of carrying illicit liquor cargoes.

Treasury officials made it plain today that President Harding's wishes in the matter are to be followed strictly and the effect has been to call a halt on all rum ship raiding outside the three mile limit. The only exception to this rule will be when a foreign vessel may have effected communication with the American shore either by its own crews or boats, for the purpose of unloading liquor cargoes for American. Such an act would render a vessel liable to seizure under the customs laws and diplomatic authorities do not dispute this contention.

DEBT COMMISSION PAVES WAY TOWARD ARRANGING TERMS

Discuss Interest Payments On British Debt to This Country.

Washington, Sept. 29.—The American debt funding commission at a meeting today at the treasury department, paved the way for negotiations to be opened next month for adjustment of Great Britain's $50,000,000 debt to the United States, and consider communications from other creditor nations.

The commission discussed interest payments on the British debt, part of which will be met before the main debt parity begins. The British noted the commission that $50,000,000 will be paid this government on October 15, on account of accrued interest. Another payment will be made November 15.

The session of the commission today was executive, but it is said an agreement was reached to give Great Britain formal notice that the commission is ready to receive the British debt spokesmen.

MRS. STILLMAN EXONERATED BY COURT REFEREE

Banker Loses Suit for Divorce Against Anne U. Stillman.

BANKER HELD GUILTY

Sweeping Victory Won by Wife in Decision; to Appeal Case.

Carmel, N. Y., Sept. 29.—James A. Stillman, former multi-millionaire president of the National City Bank, of New York today lost his suit for divorce against his wife, Mrs. Anne U. Stillman, when the referee, Daniel J. Gleason handed down a decision holding Stillman guilty of misconduct with a woman and completely exonerated Mrs. Stillman of the charges filed against her. The decision establishes the legitimacy of Mrs. Stillman's little son, Guy, who had been attacked by the banker.

The banker had alleged that Fred Beauvais, Canadian guide whom he named as correspondent, was the father of little Guy.

Referee Gleason's report said that testimony had established guilty relations between Stillman and Mrs. Florence Leeds, former chorus girl upon Stillman's private yacht "Modesty" and at various places in New York and Florida, between 1917 and 1921.

No mention of alimony was made in the findings.

Previous announcement had been made by counsel for both sides that an appeal would be taken. It is believed that Stillman's counsel will take steps to appeal at once.

Mrs. Stillman was not present. It is understood she is motoring in New England. Counsel representing Mrs. Stillman and her friends were jubilant. They said her sweeping victory had decisively cleared her character of all the charges her husband had made against her.

The referee's report was brought from Poughkeepsie to Carmel at ten o'clock and filed with County Clerk Edward S. Agor.

In his complaint the banker had charged his wife with improper conduct with Beauvais at numerous places in the province of Quebec, Canada, where he maintained a summer camp at a hotel in Montreal; at Grand Piles, Grand Anse and other places, including the Stillman country estate at Pocantico Hills, N. Y. near the estate of John D. Rockefeller. The referee said Mrs. Stillman was not guilty of any of these charges.

The plaintiff had introduced letters which he claimed, had been written by Beauvais to Mrs. Stillman. Mrs. Stillman disclaimed these communications saying they were forgeries.

SOVIET OFFICIAL SAYS TURKS NEED CONSTANTINOPLE

Tchitcherin Declares Russia Must Participate In Conference

Berlin, Sept. 29.—George Tchitcherin, peoples commissar for foreign affairs in the Russian government, departed for Moscow declaring that Constantinople must belong to Turkey and that Russia must participate in the near east conference.

The Russian statesman has been in Berlin since the end of the Genoa conference last spring. He has been taking treatment for a nervous ailment.

In an interview with Baron Von Meden, famous German journalist, Tchitcherin said:

"The American press is astonished because we refuse to admit an official American commission to enter Russia for an investigation so long as the United States refuses to allow a similar Russian body to enter that country. When the entente recently made a similar proposition to Turkey the request was rejected. Shall we show less self respect than Turkey?"

Asked for an opinion on the near east situation, Tchitcherin replied: "Constantinople must belong to Turkey. Russia must have a part in solving the near east question. Any decision without Russia will be without purpose and will not be effective."

PLACE EMBARGO ON COAL SHIPMENTS

Lorain, O., Sept. 29.—With more than 7,000 cars of coal in the yards here, awaiting loading on lake boats for shipment to the northwest the Baltimore and Ohio railroad today announced an embargo on further shipments to this port and Fairport harbor. In announcing the embargo it was said by J. C. Kimes, assistant general freight agent, that it might be effective for ten days or more. Approximately 650 cars daily can be loaded on boats with facilities here.

Fuel on route to Lorain and Fairport may be diverted to Cleveland if it was announced.

Syracuse, N. Y., Sept. 29.—Charles F. Murphy, the sphynx like leader of Tammany Hall, still held the key to the Democratic gubernatorial puzzle this morning with the time for nomi- nation of the entire state ticket only a matter of hours away.

Mendel Beilis

Here is Mendel Beilis whose perse- cutions during the reign of the late Czar Nicholas attracted worldwide attention, in New York, where he owns a little print shop. Charged with slaying a boy for the purpose of using his blood for ritual purpo- ses, Beilis was for years the victim of cruellest persecution until he was ac- quitted by a jury. He fled then to Palestine and later came to America living in seclusion and trying to save sufficient money to send for his fam- ily.

EXPECT REIGN OF GEORGE IN GREECE SHORT

Venizelos Likely to Be
First President of Republic

Athens, Sept. 29.—Constantine, abdicated king of Greece, former Queen Sophie, Prince Nicholas and Prince Andrew were secretly taken on board a warship and have depart- ed for some unknown destination, it was reliably reported today.

The temporary revolutionary tri- umvirate composed of Col. Gonotas, Col. Plastras and Captain Phocas are placing tentative orders for war ma- terials, mostly munitions. Most of the British officials have little faith in Mustapha Kemal Pasha. They suspect he is delaying his reply to the allied peace note for the purpose of gaining time to strengthen his forces around the allied neutral zone on the Turk- ish straits.

The British forces on the Dardan- elles and in and around Constantin- ople have been increased to the fol- lowing totals:

Troops—35,000.

War craft—38 dreadnoughts battle cruisers, destroyers and subma- rines. Members of the cabinet declar- ed positively that Britain would not entertain any suggestion of the pas- sage of Turkish troops through the neutral zone into Thrace.

The Greek revolutionary commit- tee at Athens is trying to strengthen the Greek army in Thrace and it is regarded as certain that if the Turks were allowed to cross over into Eu- rope at this time a clash between Greek and Turkish troops would fol- low.

Up to noon the British foreign of- fice had no official dispatches from Constantinople bearing upon the reported abdication of the Sultan, but the report was generally believed. Kemal has been demanding the re- tirement of Sultan Mohammed VI, on the ground he was only a tool of the allies.

Constantinople, Sept. 29.—Revolu- tion in Greece, abdication of King Constantine, determination of the Greek revolutionary committee to de- fend Thrace against the Turks, re- ported abdication of Sultan Moham- med VI of Turkey and the stubborn attitude of the Turkish Nationalists who continue to occupy the neutral zone on the straits, have complicated the Near East situation so dangerous, ly that it was impossible today to make a decisive forecast of peace or war.

Mohammed VI was said to have abdicated in favor of his cousin, Prince Abdul Medjid Effendi, the heir apparent. The Sultan is sick and is in seclusion.

The Kemalists have occupied nearly all the neutral zones and have the British at Chanak surrounded on three sides. In some places the Turks have advanced with white flags to prevent the British from firing upon them. It was reported that shots had been exchanged on Thursday but this is not a really confirmed.

Mustapha Kemal Pasha is believ- ed to have departed from Smyrna for Ankara to confer with members of the nationalist assembly. A report was current at the same time to the effect that Kemal has drafted a re- ply to the allied note of last Satur- day and will ask the assembly to ap- prove it. This communication is said to demand the right to occupy strate- gic points in Thrace; also

1.—Cessation of British reinforcements.

2.—Occupation of all eastern Thrace by the Turks before the near- east peace conference.

3.—Demilitarization of the sea of Marmora.

4.—Russian participation in the preliminary armistice conference.

MOVE TO INDORSE FORD'S CANDIDACY FAILS AT MEETING

Michigan Democratic Convention Decides Action is Premature.

Bay City, Mich., Sept. 29.—A move- ment, to endorse Henry Ford as a presidential candidate in 1924 failed at the Democratic state conven- tion here yesterday when the resolu- tion committee decided such action would be "premature and too far in advance of the election." The pro- posal sponsored by the delegation from Adrian, which included S. W. Raymond, a brother-in-law of the Detroit manufacturer, precipitated a fight in the resolutions committee.

Those opposing the movement held that indorsement of Mr. Ford would make the presidential issue the pre- dominating feature of the coming campaign in Michigan and detract from the strength of Woodbridge N. Ferris, the party's nominee for sena- tor. Supporters of the resolution argued that Henry Ford was the real instigator of what they termed "the Newberry issue."

Mr. Ford came in for mention in the report of the resolutions commit- tee, however, when it commended his stand on the coal problem.

Mohammed VI Reported to Have Abdicated in Favor of Cousin

London, Sept. 29.—Fear of British officials that reorganization of the red army in South Russia means Russian military aid for the Turks is groundless it was declared this afternoon by Alex Rothstein, representative of the Moscow government in London.

"Russia has not taken any military steps in the Near East," said Rothstein. "So long as Russia is invited to the Near East peace conference and there is no interference with Russian trade we do not think Constau- tinople worth the blood of a single Russian soldier. Russia is not preparing to help Turkey."

Constantinople, Sept. 29.—Musta- pha Kemal Pasha, commander in chief of the Turkish nationalist army and president of the national assembly at Angora, today sent a communication to Gen. Sir Charles Har- rington informing him that the Turk- ish troops were under orders to hold the positions they have already occu- pied in the neutral zone on the Turkish straits.

London, Sept. 29.—The anxiety of the British cabinet over the Near East situation was heightened today by news that the Russian soviet government was reorganizing and strengthening its southern army with the possibility of joining the Turks.

The British cabinet is meeting daily to consider "war plans." It is reported that the government has placed tentative orders for war ma- terials, mostly munitions. Most of the British officials have little faith in Mustapha Kemal Pasha. DRY NAVY WILL NOT BE PARED BY NEW RULING

Harding's Decision On Three-Mile Limit Not to Affect Strength

Washington, Sept. 29.—"The pro- hibition navy," restricted to the three mile limit, by new treasury or- ders to prevent further international disputes over foreign ship seizures will not be reduced in strength, it was officially stated today. All the boats now in service will be used for patrolling waters, although a few may do "observation duty" beyond the three mile zone. These vessels, however, will scrupulously observe the new orders not to molest, foreign ships, even though they are suspect- ed of carrying illicit liquor cargoes.

Treasury officials made it plain today that President Harding's wishes in the matter are to be fol- lowed strictly and the effect has been to call a halt on all rum ship- raising outside the three mile limit. The only exception to this rule will be when a foreign vessel may have effected communication with the American shore either by its own crews or boats, for the purpose of unloading liquor cargoes for Ameri- can. Such an act would render a vessel liable to seizure under the cus- toms laws and diplomatic authorities do not dispute this contention.

The plaintiff had introduced letters which he claimed, had been written by Beauvais to Mrs. Stillman. Mrs. Stillman disclaimed these communi- cations saying they were forgeries.

DEBT COMMISSION PAVES WAY TOWARD ARRANGING TERMS

Discuss Interest Payments
On British Debt to This Country.

Washington, Sept. 29.—The Ameri- can debt funding commission at a meeting today at the treasury de- partment paved the way for negotia- tions to be opened next month for ad- justment of Great Britain's $5,000,000,000 debt to the United States, and consider communications from other creditor nations.

The commission discussed interest payments on the British debt, part of which will be met before the main debt parley begins. The British not- iced the commission that $50,000,000 will be paid this government on Octo- ber 15, on account of accrued inter- est. Another payment will be made November 15.

The session of the commission to- day was executive, but it is said an agreement was reached to give Great Britain formal notice that the com- mission is ready to receive the Brit- ish debt spokesmen.

He said that his recent trip abroad convinced him that the continent is tottering on the verge of ruin and can be saved only by the United States.

MRS. STILLMAN EXONERATED BY COURT REFEREE

Banker Loses Suit for Divorce Against Anne U.
Stillman.

BANKER HELD GUILTY

Sweeping Victory Won by
Wife in Decision; to Appeal Case.

Carmel, N. Y., Sept. 29.—James A. Stillman, former multi-millionaire president of the National City Bank, of New York, today lost his suit for divorce against his wife, Mrs. Anne U. Stillman, when the referee, Daniel J. Gleason handed down a decision holding Stillman guilty of misconduct with a woman and completely exon- erated Mrs. Stillman of the charges filed against her. The decision es- tablishes the legitimacy of Mrs. Still- man's little son, Guy, who had been attacked by the banker.

The banker had alleged that Fred Beauvais, Canadian guide whom he named as correspondent, was the father of little Guy.

Referee Gleason's report said that testimony had established guilty re- lations between Stillman and Mrs. Florence Leeds, former chorus girl- upon Stillman's private yacht "Mod- esty" and at various places in New York and Florida, between 1917 and 1921.

No mention of alimony was made in the findings.

Previous announcement had been made by counsel for both sides that an appeal would be taken. It is be- lieved that Stillman's counsel will take steps to appeal at once.

Mrs. Stillman was not present. It is understood she is motoring in New England. Counsel representing Mrs. Stillman and her friends were jubilant. They said their sweeping vic- tory had decisively cleared her char- acter of all the charges her husband had made against her.

The referee's report was brought from Poughkeepsie to Carmel at ten o'clock and filed with County Clerk Edward S. Agor.

In his complaint the banker had charged his wife with improper con- duct with Beauvais at numerous places in the province of Quebec, Canada, where he maintained a summer camp at a hotel in Montreal; at Grand Piles, Grand Anse and other places, including the Stillman coun- ty estate at Pocantico Hills, N. Y. near the estate of John D. Rocke- feller. The referee said Mrs. Stillman was not guilty of any of these charges.

The plaintiff had introduced letters which he claimed, had been written by Beauvais to Mrs. Stillman. Mrs. Stillman disclaimed these communi- cations saying they were forgeries.

SOVIET OFFICIAL SAYS TURKS NEED CONSTANTINOPLE

sia Must Participate
In Conference

Berlin, Sept. 29.—George Tchit- cherin, peoples commissar for foreign affairs in the Russian government, departed for Moscow declaring that Constantinople must belong to Turkey and that Russia must partici- pate in the near east conference.

The Russian statesman has been in Berlin since the end of the Genoa conference last spring. He has been taking treatment for a nervous ail- ment.

In an interview with Baron Von Meden, famous German journalist, Tchitcherin said:

"The American press is astonished because we refuse to admit an offi- cial American commission to enter Russia for an investigation so long as the United States refuses to allow a similar Russian body to enter that country. When the entente recently made a similar proposition to Tur- key the request was rejected. Shall we show less self respect than Turkey?"

Asked for an opinion on the near- east situation, Tchitcherin replied: "Constantinople must belong to Turkey. Russia must have a part in solving the near east question. Any decision without Russia will be with- out purpose and will not be effective."

PLACE EMBARGO ON COAL SHIPMENTS

Lorain, O., Sept. 29.—With more than 7,000 cars of coal in the yards here, awaiting loading on lake boats for shipment to the northwest the Baltimore and Ohio railroad today announced an embargo on further shipments to this port and Fairport harbor. In announcing the embargo it was said by J. C. Kimes, assistant general freight agent, that it might be effective for ten days or more. Approximately 650 cars daily can be loaded on boats with facilities here. Fuel en route to Lorain and Fair- port may be diverted to Cleveland if it was announced.

BEER AMENDMENT FULL OF DANGER AVER OHIO DRYS

The Greene County W. C. T. U. is calling a mass meeting of the citizens of Greene County to be held in the assembly room of the Court House, Tuesday afternoon, at two thirty o'clock, for the purpose of organizing the county in the campaign against beer and light wines question which will come up at the November election.

Columbus, O.—(Special).—Now that the state supreme court has decided that the beer amendment to the state constitution must go on the ballot and be voted on at the November election, the drys have squared away to administer a stinging defeat to the proposal. The State Dry Federation, an organization embracing the Anti-Saloon League, the W. C. T. U., and other temperance and reform organizations, including the Grange, has swung into action and is appealing to the men and women to unite for the defeat of the wet proposal.

Drys do not accept the view that the referendum on the beer amendment is a mere straw vote, and should it be adopted, it will be void and without effect.

On the contrary, they declare it is full of danger to the dry cause, not only in Ohio, but that it menaces the eighteenth amendment and the Volstead law. The proposed amendment, which will be approved or rejected at the November election, reads:

"Article xv, Section 5-1. Be it resolved by the people of the state of Ohio: No beverage containing two and three-quarters, or less, per cent of alcohol by weight shall be deemed an intoxicating liquor, and the manufacture and sale of such beverages for consumption in homes and places of abode shall be lawful. No beverage containing more than one-half of 1 per cent of alcohol by volume may be sold to be drunk on the premises where sold."

"Possession of intoxicating liquors in the home or residence of any person for his or her personal use, or the use of his or her family or his or her guests, when not intended for sale or other illegal purpose, shall not be unlawful. No search or attempt to search the person or property of any person without previously securing a search warrant shall be authorized in the enforcement of all laws pertaining to the prohibition of intoxicating liquors."

Drys charge that the effect of the amendment should it be approved by the voters and become a part of the state constitution, would be:

To legalize 2.75 per cent beer in Ohio, and that 2.75 per cent beer by weight equals 3.44 per cent beer by volume, which is practically as strong as beer sold in the old saloons.

It would, so far as Ohio is concerned, authorize the manufacture and sale of this beer anywhere and everywhere in the state.

Antagonizes Federal Law.

It would make Ohio a nullification state, as the amendment is antagonistic to the federal law which prohibits the manufacture and sale of liquors containing one-half of 1 per cent, or more, of alcohol.

It would render ineffective the dry enforcement law of the state, and state and local officers would not co-operate with federal officers in law enforcement.

It would pave the way for the reopening of beer saloons and the sale of beer without restrictions of any kind.

It would throw all prosecutions into the four federal courts of the state, and would so clog these courts that trials could not be had or convictions secured for months, and possibly years.

It would greatly encourage the wets of the country in their drive on congress to repeal or modify the Volstead act, and would be a direct thrust at the eighteenth amendment.

It is for these reasons that Ohio drys are preparing for a vigorous campaign to defeat the beer amendment. They are arranging to hold hundreds of community meetings, are organizing the cities and country districts, and are especially appealing to the women to rally to the polls and avert a possible beer deluge.

Drys declare this fight, precipitated by the wets, is national in its scope, and, as proof of this assertion, they point to the fact that the Association Against the Prohibition Amendment, which is conducting the Ohio campaign for the brewers, is a national organization, and that it has brought into the state from Washington, a man to manage the wet campaign instead, as in former years, entrusting the work to liberal leaders of Ohio.

The drys also point out that these outside interests in bringing on the Ohio campaign are causing an expense of more than $200,000 to be foisted upon the Ohio taxpayers to take care of the cost of the election.

Wet interests are jubilant over getting the beer amendment on the ballot, and it is anticipated they will put up a stiff fight for its adoption, although they admit that, with women voting, the odds are against them. The fact that the wets spent more than $15,000 in securing signatures to their petitions indicates that they are not poverty stricken, and that the stakes for which they are playing are big enough to justify the expenditure of a large sum of money.

He is also improving and standardizing the work in the remaining one-room schools issuing monthly outlines for classroom work arranging for conferences with teachers on lines of work receiving emphasis, expanding club work of boys and girls to bring home and school in closer touch and arranging schedules for county debating contests. When he has completed this program he ought to have a half-day off without prejudice."

This season you may have your choice, with assurance of equal smartness, of the now long-familiar bateau neckline, a shallow or deep square of neck; or if it is becoming to you, a high collar buttoned to the chin—a feature of many of the autumn gowns shown by Worth.

In sleeves, too, you may have your choice of short, straight sleeves, as shown in many of Renee's dresses or long wide ones, or long tight sleeves, or long sleeves that are wide, very wide at the armholes and taper down to a tight wringled effect at the wrist. If you like a suggestion of medieval influence, this should appeal to you.

An attractive way of finishing a sleeve is shown in the model illustrated which follows the pendant for brown, using the dull side of satin crepe with a slender throat-like em. broidery in twine color. The lines of this model make it suitable for a man, strongly figure.

DIFFERENT "REPARATIONS" SUGGESTED.

There are times when the best service any country can render the world is to attend to its own affairs with diligence and skill. European peoples and Governments are aware of this fact, and are steadily working out of their post-war difficulties. It would of course be desirable if public debts were cancelled, and if currencies were put on a sound basis. But if people are actually at work rather than at war, and if a kindly Providence gives good crops and normal weather, the populations of civilized States may do quite well, regardless of the nominal insolvencies of their public treasuries. It is now nearly four years since the war ended, and the reparations question continues a stumbling block of the day.

It is true that adequate indemnities called for much more than the restoration of damaged property; but it would at least have gone some ways toward the establishment of European peace if, quite apart from cash payments, the Germans had been compelled to supply materials and workmen on a vast scale with a view to restoring cities and towns, lands and farms, railroads and bridges, mines and factories, as rapidly as possible. Peace industries and work armies should have been made to restore what war industries and fighting armies had devastated.

CALIFORNIAN TAKES STAND FOR JAPAN.

John Powell Irish, octogenarian and a California rancher and employer of Japanese labor, who is making his first visit to Japan, declared in an exclusive interview that California's "hellish anti-Japanese agitation" is the most harmful and unreasonable obstacle to international amity and is constantly building up causes for friction between the United States and Japan.

"The cowardly, deceitful tactics against the Japanese induced me to undertake a one-man fight to overcome the baneful influence, but it is an almost impossible task because officialdom and the press are linked in a campaign of misrepresentation," he said. "Their program is marked by subterfuge and deliberate falsehood and is officially shielded from punishment. It is injuring the best interests of the States and the Nation, and I will not attempt to explain its real purposes."

Mr. Irish is conducting a counter-campaign independently, and when asked his incentive he replied that conditions prevailing in California were unbearable and the situation required an active advocate for justice.

Mr. Irish's position is antagonized strongly by thousands of persons as honest as he. They claim that as soon as the little "Japs" get a foothold in a community that it automatically lowers the value of all real estate, and hence their neighbors who own property are "down on them." Put the matter to yourself. Say you owned a ranch of a hundred acres which before the Japs came was worth $200 per acre, but the settlement of the Japs in numbers in the neighborhood lowered the valuation to $100 per acre. How would you like it? It is simply the old Race question, and the principle of "Prejudice" added to it. Mr. and Mrs. Irish may like the Japs as associates, while hundreds of other people dislike them. So it resolves itself into the idiom of "As you like it."

SUPER-SYSTEM IN AMERICAN BUSINESS.

The other day the chairman of the Federal Reserve Bank boards made a few striking remarks before the convention of the American Institute of Banking.

He commenced his talk by attacking the present tendency to go through the motions of doing business without really getting down to business. It's something a large part of the business world has been guilty of in the last few years. A few wise ones have already discovered the disadvantages of such a system and have set to work in earnest. When everybody does the same thing business will be discovered miraculously to have regained its health.

Another fault of modern business is to overdo its organization and machinery. Both organization and machinery are necessary, but they have been so elaborately developed that they are becoming cumbersome and are leading to bureaucracy. In banking, particularly, it has been observed that there are more titles than there are necessary jobs, with the result that the titles have come to have more importance than the work they represent. Said the authority, "It is not a question of what your position is. The question is, what are you yourself doing in it and with it?"

As to statistics, charts and barometers of business, the expert said: "There are two subjects that cannot be chartered. They are good and human nature, and both cut quite a figure. It is my judgment that a lot of us are getting our trousers shiny sitting at our desks poring over statistics, department reports, etc., who could spend our time to better advantage learning the people in our organizations and getting a more intimate knowledge of the viewpoint of those with whom we do business."

It is all quite true, and though bankers may be temperamentally inclined to make these mistakes of over-organization, they are not the only ones who are caught in the development of too much machinery. Many other branches of business and of general human endeavor need to heed these words of warning.

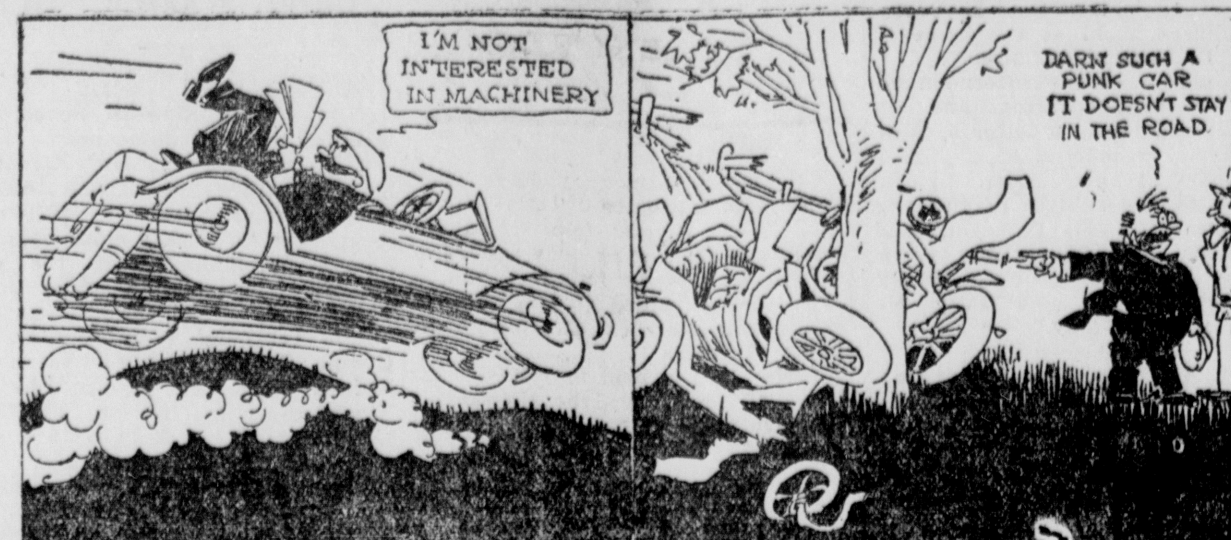

Matanzas, Cuba, boasts of 10 shoe factories in which machinery is used and 14 smaller shops where the shoes are made by hand.

It is estimated that persons residing in New York, New Jersey and Pennsylvania receive one-fourth of the entire income of the United States.

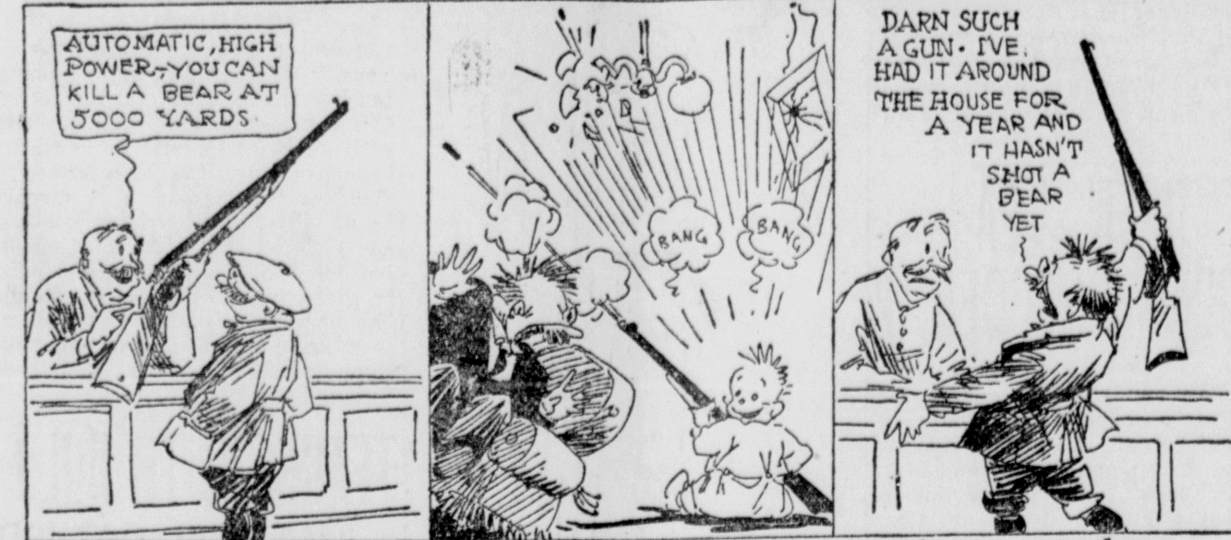

The automobile industry paid the Federal Government $104,430,000 during the fiscal year 1922, through the manufacturers' excise tax.

Statistics show that married men are more trustworthy in business than single men, in the ratio of six to one, because of their increased sense of responsibility.

One of the worst wrecks on the Pan Handle in recent years occurred last night at Spring Valley when a through freight, going at a high rate of speed, crashed into a local freight piling up cars. The collision was a head end one and both locomotives were badly damaged. The crews jumped and no one was injured. The Court House grounds are beginning to show up green. And the janitor discovered another product this morning in the way of a number of fine mushrooms.

At a meeting of the Court House Commission yesterday it was definitely decided not to make any changes of consequence in the arrangement of the court room. Next week the metal furniture question will come up.

The town of Codrville is being agitated over the temperance question this week, mass meetings held each evening. Representative men of Jamestown made addresses, giving the experience of Jamestown as a dry town.

Heart and Home Problems

The release of Eugene Sheridan by the Dodgers to New Orleans brings to mind one of the prize hard luck tales of the 1920 season. Sheridan lives in Brooklyn. This is not the hard luck referred to. As a matter of fact, Gene thinks well of the city as a place of residence, and some day in the very near future hopes, and with good reason, to be a regular infielder on the Dodger team.

He was recommended to President Elbert and signed to a contract by Manager Robby in 1918. His first appearance in a major league game was made at the Polo grounds, and but for a little hard luck he would have broken in on his first time at bat with a home run. Gene drove one of Al DeMare's twisters into the right field stands—it was a foul by inches.

Shortly after this Sheridan, enlisted in the navy and made several overseas trips before the armistice was signed. The following season, 1919, he was released to Reading of the International league, and also played with that club last season. He did not miss playing in one game of the 140 or more played by Reading during 1920. Upon completion of the International schedule last September he was recalled by Brooklyn.

Then came his second appearance with the big team of his own home town and the particular hard luck referred to. In the very first inning Gene went down to second to take a throw on an attempted steal and had his finger badly split. This was certainly a tough break after going through every game with Reading, but that may not have been the most unfortunate part of the business.

As is recalled, Jimmy Johnston was injured at Cleveland in the first game of the world's series.

and Sheehan, a young player, was given the chance to jump into the breach. More than likely, Sheridan, if he had weeks with the Dodgers, might even have taken the place of Johnston in the world's series.

Harry Frazee, smarting perhaps under criticism of his moves to give the Boston fans a good baseball show next season, is out with an interview in which he tells a newspaper man that he has confidence in Hugh Duffy to put over a winner and "if money, baseball brains and time can produce a winner for Boston, then we will have one again."

Frazee says his various theater enterprises are going so big he hasn't had much time to give baseball, but now that the politics of the winter have been disposed of he means to get busy. The interest in the show business, he argues, indicates that we are in for a big year in baseball, which he also regards as an amusement enterprise primarily, and he says he has no reason to believe the coming season should not be as prosperous as the past one.

In due time he will give the baseball end of his busy career some needed attention, but just now, thank you, he's so busy with his show business he really asks to be excused.

Roger Bresnahan, who was criticized when he signed the veteran Nig Clarke to catch for the Toledo Mudhens, says old Nig will fool them all the coming season. Bresnahan declares Clarke will prove himself the best catcher in the American Association and that three other clubs were after him. People don't know, says Roger, that when Nig got out of the navy he got a bill of health saying he was as good as the ordinary man of 24.

TWO ASK FOR DIVORCE

Two people, a husband and a wife, are plaintiffs in divorce cases filed in Common Pleas Court. Walter A. Blackmore wants a divorce from Mary E. Blackmore, whom he married January 1, 1912, because of gross neglect of duty and the charge that she abandoned him June 13, 1921. They have one child, Helen.

Lula H. Cooper is seeking a separation from Frank Cooper, whom she married January 8, 1911. She charges that Cooper was sentenced to the state penitentiary for life from Common Pleas Court here in May, 1919, for rape. She wants divorce and custody of the one son, Wendell.

THE PACKAGE.

I know not when my leg may break, entailing anguish sharp; I know not when my back may ache, so I can't play my harp. To-day I walk with buoyant tread, I dance around the floor; I cannot see an hour ahead, I know not what's in store. This world is full of gins and snares, our health and joy to mar; I may fall down a flight of stairs, or fail to dodge a car. A sand bag from an airship high may land upon my dome, while weeping peelers hear me cry, "Proud world, I'm going home." Tomorrow, if I'm still alive, I may be racked by pain, while skillful taxidermists strive to give relief in vain. I know not what a day may bring to this poor life of mine; so fondly to this thought I cling—I have a wad in brine. If I must cease to paw my lyre and whang out helpful tunes, I will not face a famine dire, I still can buy my prunes. And if perchance the sexton plants my form beneath a tree, you will not see my wailing aunts beseeching charity. And so it is with proper pride I tell myself, at times, "Whatever trouble may betide, I have some pickled dimes. No evil I anticipate, but if the luck should turn, I have about a hundred weight of pennies in the churn."

Today's Talk

BECOMING A PART OF THINGS

I wake up in the morning. The air is vibrant, its ozone rushes into my lungs as I look out of my open window and hear the song of the leaves.

The thing that most impresses me is that this day belongs to me as much as it does to anyone else. But I must use it. Else it belongs more to the one who will. But I choose to use it to enter into activity, to be of service in every way possible. And so I become a happy and necessary part of this new day.

I pass by some green bushes. Flowers are fading from long stems that have held great beauty for many days. I am impressed and inspired—and so I take the thought of this loveliness with me to my work.

I pass a dog. Its tail wagging good-will. And so this silent dog and this thinking human being have become a part of each other.

I see a flying bird, playing children, workmen building a house, I pass a street car filled with men and women on their way to work. A newsboy hands me a paper for which I give him three cents. I pass by a beautiful stream—the historic Hudson river—and am inspired anew each day by its beauty, especially by its wonderful Fall tides.

Cars by the hundred pass me and I wonder about the thinking done by every occupant. I meditate on the great human stream that keeps flowing back and forth in every great city.

It won't be very long before the baby in the carriage that I passed today, will be in a position similar to mine—on its way to work. And it, too, will pass what I have passed and will wonder about all this strange presentation and will have thoughts somewhat as I. It, too, will see in the parks the silent, solid stone and marble likenesses of those who have served the world and will be inspired to emulate their example.

It is a wonderful thing to feel that you at once become a part of things. Ulysses, in Tennyson's great poem, as he nears the edge of his life has this to say:

"I am become a name; For always roaming with a hungry heart Far on the ringing plains of Troy, I am a part of all that I have met."

The work of the stomach is to extract the life-giving properties from the food you eat, and these properties are distributed through the body by the blood. If the stomach does not perform this work, as Nature intended, the blood suffers and the entire system becomes affected.

The eight different ingredients in TANLAC, the wonderful stomach medicine and system purifier, are so blended that they readily assist the stomach in performing its natural function. Its corrective action will make you eat again like a hungry child.

CITY COMMISSION NAMES COMMITTEE FOR HEALTH WORK

A committee composed of Dr. A. D. DeHaven, chairman, City Manager S. O. Hale and City Solicitor J. A. Finney, appointed by President H. L. Smith of the City Commission at Thursday night's meeting, will investigate the Shelby County Health Department, investigate legislation necessary to provide adequate health protection for Xenia and ascertain what money may be available for that work.

This was the outcome of the appeal made to the commission by the committee selected from the citizens' committee at large, which was organized during the height of the typhoid fever epidemic here, this summer and which has been agitating the movement for better health protection. Dr. R. R. McClellan and The Rev. W. H. Tilford, pastor of the First Presbyterian Church, were spokesmen for the committee and presented its cause to the commission.

The commission considered the request of the committee for health action after the first hearing H. G. Pett, assistant to the president of Antioch College, Yellow Springs, and Dr. H. A. Hoffman of this city, veterinarian connected with the College, explained the offer of that school for dairy and food inspection and milk and water tests for the city. Mr. Pett explained that the offer of Antioch includes inspection of herds and dairies, inspection of meat, with the exception of the killing, and the inspection of other food, including butcher shops, grocery stores and analyses of milk and water. For the inspections, the College will make a charge of $1.50 a piece and for water and milk analyses in the College laboratory the offer is for $1.25 a piece.

Mr. Pett explained that the offer hinges on the belief that the College will get a reasonable volume of work from the city and he said the prices were "rock bottom." Antioch College now has installed new laboratory equipment making these tests possible, and Dr. Hoffman, who will handle the inspections, recently served in that capacity for the city as an emergency appointee during the epidemic period. Dr. Hoffman supplemented the remarks of Mr. Pett with an explanation of the proper system of inspections.

Dr. McClellan, as spokesman for the committee urged that the city take some action to prevent the return of typhoid fever epidemics to the city. He said he believed the recent epidemic has been halted and present emergencies cared for, but that there will be recurrences of epidemic unless the city provides ample health protection for the future. He said the levy for next year on the city's health budget will provide about $1,000. According to City Manager Hale, there is now a deficit in the health fund of over $700 due to the emergency measures adopted during the crisis. This can be made up as an emergency by selling bonds to cover the amount next year, he said.

In his closing arguments Dr. McClellan requested that the City Commission seriously consider raising money by any means possible to further the plan of better health protection in the future. He said that the public desires that this be done as a preventative measure against the possibility of future epidemics. The Rev. Mr. Tilford said that the people are anxious to avoid the ever-recurring typhoid fever epidemic scares. He referred to the necessity for food inspection, especially of proper supervision of groceries where food-stuffs are kept in the open. The minister said that there are approximately 600 gallons of milk coming into Xenia every day or about 219,000 a year, and he suggested the possibility of a tax of one cent a gallon, which he believed the public would willingly pay, to provide a fund for health purposes.

The committee appointed by President Smith on motion of Commissioner M. J. Hartley, will probably visit Sidney authorities to learn the system by which Shelby County operates an adequate disease-fighting organization as well as look into the legal and financial sides of the problem, with intention to report at the next meeting.

A committee composed of Dr. A. D. DeHaven, chairman, City Manager S. O. Hale and City Solicitor J. A. Finney, appointed by President H. L. Smith of the City Commission at Thursday night's meeting, will investigate the Shelby County Health Department, investigate legislation necessary to provide adequate health protection for Xenia and ascertain what money may be available for that work.

This was the outcome of the appeal made to the commission by the committee selected from the citizens' committee at large, which was organized during the height of the typhoid fever epidemic here, this summer and which has been agitating the movement for better health protection. Dr. R. R. McClellan and The Rev. W. H. Tilford, pastor of the First Presbyterian Church, were spokesmen for the committee and presented its cause to the commission.

The commission considered the request of the committee for health action after the first hearing H. G. Pett, assistant to the president of Antioch College, Yellow Springs, and Dr. H. A. Hoffman of this city, veterinarian connected with the College, explained the offer of that school for dairy and food inspection and milk and water tests for the city. Mr. Pett explained that the offer of Antioch includes inspection of herds and dairies, inspection of meat, with the exception of the killing, and the inspection of other food, including butcher shops, grocery stores and analyses of milk and water. For the inspections, the College will make a charge of $1.50 a piece and for water and milk analyses in the College laboratory the offer is for $1.25 a piece.

Mr. Pett explained that the offer hinges on the belief that the College will get a reasonable volume of work from the city and he said the prices were "rock bottom." Antioch College now has installed new laboratory equipment making these tests possible, and Dr. Hoffman who will handle the inspections, recently served in this capacity for the city as an emergency appointee during the epidemic period. Dr. Hoffman supplemented the remarks of Mr. Pett with an explanation of the proper system of inspections.

Dr. McClellan, as spokesman for the committee urged that the city take some action to prevent the return of typhoid fever epidemics to the city. He said he believed the recent epidemic has been halted and present emergencies cared for, but that there will be recurrence of epidemic unless the city provides ample health protection for the future. He said the levy for next year on the city's health budget will provide about $1,000. According to City Manager Hale, there is now a deficit in the health fund of over $700 due to the emergency measures adopted during the crisis. This can be made up as an emergency by selling bonds to cover the amount next year, he said.

In his closing arguments Dr. McClellan requested that the City Commission seriously consider raising money by any means possible to further the plan of better health protection in the future. He said that the public desires that this be done as a preventative measure against the possibility of future epidemics. The Rev. Mr. Tilford said that the people are anxious to avoid the ever-recurring typhoid fever epidemic scares. He referred to the necessity for food inspection, especially of proper supervision of groceries where food-stuffs are kept in the open. The minister said that there are approximately 600 gallons of milk coming into Xenia every day or about 219,000 a year, and he suggested the possibility of a tax of one cent a gallon, which he believed the public would willingly pay, to provide a fund for health purposes.

The committee appointed by President Smith on motion of Commissioner M. J. Hartley, will probably visit Sidney authorities to learn the system by which Shelby County operates an adequate disease-fighting organization as well as look into the legal and financial sides of the problem, with intention to report at the next meeting.

This Will Ward Off And Break Up Colds

Just a teaspoonful of Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin removes the congestion

ANY FAMILY MAY TRY IT FREE

Thousands of parents are asking themselves, "Where can I find a trustworthy laxative that anyone in the family can use when constipated?" I urge you to try Syrup Pepsin. I will gladly provide a liberal free sample bottle, sufficient for an adequate test. Write me where to send it. Address Dr. W. B. Caldwell, 515 Washington St., Monticello, Illinois. Do it now!

THE two ailments that people generally regard as of the least importance are in reality the cause of most serious illnesses and of the greatest proportion of deaths. They are constipation and common colds. Many doctors now believe that colds, tonsillitis, a touch of malaria will cause constipation, instead of constipation being their cause. The fact remains that you seldom have a cold without constipation, due to general congestion. The only way to avoid colds is to keep up your vitality. You usually catch cold in the winter if you are run down. Therefore in cold weather exercise more; eat more fatty foods; drink four to six glasses of water a day; keep the head cool, the feet warm, the bowels open.

You are also less liable to colds if your system is free from the intestinal poisons of constipation, so empty the bowels regularly with a plain vegetable laxative like Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin.

At the first sign of a cold, at the first few warning sneezes, take a teaspoonful of Syrup Pepsin and the congestion will be gone in a few hours. Don't wait until the cold has a grip on you. Mr. Henry Dean, Jr., of Rochester, N. Y., cured a stubborn cold in just that way, and Mrs. Alice Corbrey of Haskell, Okla., uses it effectively for all the small ills of her family, such as constipation, biliousness, headaches, dizziness, and to break up fevers and colds.

Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin is a scientifically-balanced compound of Egyptian senna with pleasant-tasting aromatics. It is safe to give to infants, and all children like it. Before you again resort to cold remedies containing narcotics try a teaspoonful of Syrup Pepsin. Any druggist will supply you, and the cost is less than a cent a dose.

Cedarville College Notes

As is the custom of Cedarville College, the Freshmen always attempt to have a spread the second week of school. This year their attempt was more successful than usual and although the upper classmen attempted to break up their plans, they had a spread at the home of Miss Dorothy Tarr.

The Juniors enjoyed an evening around the bonfire in the woods last Friday.

At a meeting of the student body Forest Nagley was elected cheer leader and LeClède Markle assistant.

Tuesday morning, Moechure and Moechure, photographers from Columbus, took a picture of the student body.

Coch Warner is satisfied with the way the football men are progressing. The first game will be played Saturday with the University of Dayton at Dayton. A large number of the students are expecting to attend the game. Several games have been scheduled and Cedarville College is going into the games well trained and expecting to bring home some victories.

This Will Ward Off And Break Up Colds

Just a teaspoonful of Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin removes the congestion

THE two ailments that people generally regard as of the least importance are in reality the cause of most serious illnesses and of the greatest proportion of deaths.

They are constipation and common colds. Many doctors now believe that colds, tonsillitis, a touch of malaria will cause constipation. Instead of constipation being their cause. The fact remains that you seldom have a cold without constipation, due to general congestion. The only way to avoid colds is to keep up your vitality. You usually catch cold in the winter if you are run down. Therefore in cold weather exercise more; eat more fatty foods; drink four to six glasses of water a day; keep the head cool, the feet warm, the bowels open.

You are also less liable to colds if your system is free from the intestinal poisons of constipation, so empty the bowels regularly with a plain vegetable laxative like Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin.

ANY FAMILY MAY TRY IT FREE

Thousands of parents are asking themselves, "Where can I find a trustworthy laxative that anyone in the family can use when constipated?" I urge you to try Syrup Pepsin. I will gladly provide a liberal free sample bottle, sufficient for an adequate test. Write me where to send it. Address Dr. W. B. Caldwell, 515 Washington St., Monticello, Illinois. Do it now!

At the first sign of a cold, at the first few warning sneezes, take a teaspoonful of Syrup Pepsin and the congestion will be gone in a few hours. Don't wait until the cold has a grip on you. Mr. Henry Dean, Jr., of Rochester, N. Y., cured a stubborn cold in just that way, and Mrs. Alice Corbrey of Haskell, Okla., uses it effectively for all the small ills of her family, such as constipation, biliousness, headaches, dizziness, and to break up fevers and colds.

Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin is a scientifically-balanced compound of Egyptian senna with pleasant-tasting aromatics. It is safe to give to infants, and all children like it. Before you again resort to cold remedies containing narcotics try a teaspoonful of Syrup Pepsin. Any druggist will supply you, and the cost is less than a cent a dose.

Give Him "ZEP" to Carry Him Through the Day

Start the man off with a "ZEP" breakfast and he'll have "pep" for the day. "ZEP" is something wholly new in breakfast foods, richest in the nutritive elements which most foods lack. Iron for the blood, lime for the bones, and muscles, and the wonderful vitamin B for the tissues. It makes a glorious breakfast dish—more tasty, toothsome, and satisfying than any cereal you've ever known. Ready to serve. Especially fine for the children. The whole family will vote it a treat.

P. T. A. MAY BUY SCALES FOR SCHOOLS TO WEIGH CHILDREN

The proposition of each Parent-Teacher Association or Mothers' Circle, of the Xenia City Schools, combined in the city Federation, of purchasing and installing regular physicians' scales in the respective schools and having each child of the first, second and third grades, weighed and measured regularly, was submitted to the members of the school organizations, in session at the McKinley Building, Thursday afternoon, by Superintendent of City Schools C. A. Waltz.

The meeting of the Federated Association, which is composed of the mothers' and teachers' organization of Orient, Hill, Central, and McKinley, was the first held this year.

The proposition submitted to the members by Superintendent Waltz, is in connection with the plan to have each of the children of the three grades mentioned who are found to be underweight or under height, to be given special care and attention. If, after they are weighed and examined they have been found to be abnormal the plan, as suggested at the meeting, Thursday, to furnish each child, with a half pint of milk and two Graham crackers at ten thirty o'clock each morning. At the end of the week the child will be weighed again and will be continued to be fed on the milk and wafers, until he is normal.

The plan is carried out in one of the largest schools of the country, with the result that within three months' time, those suffering from malnutrition gained sixty per cent. The plan has met with the approval of each member of the circle present at the meeting, and committees will be appointed, as once to attend to the purchases and establishment of the scales, and the remaining details of the plan. It was decided by the members to have the parents of the children to pay four cents a day if they were financially able, in order to secure sufficient money to carry out the plan.

At least fifty dollars will be furnished by each school organization to furnish equipment for the playgrounds of the respective schools, it was decided at the meeting in connection with a suggestion that each circle immediately purchase equipment for a movement to be started immediately by the Federated Association for a dental clinic in the schools, met with the approval of the organization.

It was definitely decided at the meeting that the Xenia City School Board will handle the Opportunity School without the assistance of any circle. If the School Board becomes in need of assistance the Federation has pledged its support, coinciding with the slogan of the organization, "Co-operation between parents and teachers to give help when needed, and to promote better understanding of the schools."

Twenty-seven thousand mothers and teachers of Ohio are bound together in the Parent-Teachers' Associations standing fourth in the national organization.

Mrs. M. L. Wolf was appointed to represent the city Federated organization, at the state P. T. A. Convention, in Columbus, October 11, other delegates from each other school organization to be appointed later.

ORGANIZATION WORK FOR JUDGE ALLEN IS BEGUN IN COUNTY

Despite the cooking class and various other interesting meetings which were called for Thursday afternoon a group of leaders here in Xenia came together with Helen M. Becht of Cincinnati, Ohio and talked over plans for organization work for Judge Florence E. Allen of Cleveland, independent candidate for the Supreme Court of Ohio. Judge Allen is now on the Common Pleas Court bench in Cleveland.

"If may interest people to know," Miss Becht said, "that Miss Allen secured more than twice as many signatures to her petition as she needed and that in her own county she secured almost as many as she needed throughout the state. This does not mean that the work is done—for we now are asking for the support of every one of these same signers and for that of his friends as well."

"The meeting Thursday showed that there was nothing wrong with the interest or the preparedness of the Greene County women and they give every assurance of Judge Allen's election as one of Greene County's choices. There are, of course, two judges to be elected," said Miss Becht. On Saturday night, Sept. 30, Judge Allen will speak in Wilmington at the Court House Auditorium. The address will be given at 7:30 in the evening, and Wilmington opens its doors to as many people from Xenia as possibly can arrange to come.

DISPLAY SILVER FOX FUR HERE WHILE SEEING LOCAL FARM

A beautiful silver fox fur, valued at $850.00 is attracting much attention in the window of the Jobe Brothers' store. The fur is the property of Frank F. Tuplin, of near Grand Rapids, Mich., the owner of extensive silver fox farms, who spent Friday in this city with Dr. and Mrs. D. E. Spahr who are arranging a fox farm on their property near the water works north of this city.

Mr. Tuplin states that one reason why the silver fox fur is so expensive is because of the fact that the silver fox in the wild state is almost extinct, and because it is impossible to imitate the genuine silver fox fur. The silver hairs that seem to overlay the black fur, and give the effect of a mixed fur, are in fact black hairs banded with white, the tips being black. Mr. Tuplin says that, the banded fur cannot be imitated by even the most skillful fur workers.

Mr. Tuplin has been engaged in the silver fox farming for twenty years and has four farms. He is now forming a $500,000 corporation in Minneapolis. He has sold three pairs of foxes from his farms to Dr. and Mrs. Spahr, and will ship them here as soon as the pens are ready to receive them.

He states that he believes this locality will prove very favorable to the raising of the silver foxes as they do well wherever the ordinary red foxes thrive.

Fine silver fox pelts bring almost fabulous prices and if Dr. and Mrs. Spahr are successful in their new venture they will have opened up a most valuable new industry for this locality.

IN HARD LINES

"I could not work at all and had to take to my bed with a high fever due to intestinal indigestion, gasses in my stomach and pain in my right side. I had spent my last cent for doctors and medicine, which gave me no relief. I was in despair. A lodge brother gave me a bottle of Mavr 'Wonderful Remedy', and the first dose relieved me. Thanks to this medicine I am now in the best of health." It is a simple, harmless preparation that removes the catarrhal mucus from the intestinal tract and allays the inflammation which causes practically all stomach liver and intestinal ailments, including appendicitis. One dose will convince or money refunded.

Tuplin, of near Grand Rapids, Mich., the owner of extensive silver fox farms, who spent Friday in this city with Dr. and Mrs. D. E. Spahr who are arranging a fox farm on their property near the water works, north of this city.

Mr. Tuplin states that one reason why the silver fox fur is so expensive is because of the fact that the silver fox in the wild state is almost extinct, and because it is impossible to imitate the genuine silver fox fur. The silver hairs that seem to overlay the black fur, and give the effect of a mixed fur, are in fact black hairs banded with white, the tips being black. Mr. Tuplin says that the banded fur cannot be imitated by even the most skillful fur workers.

Mr. Tuplin has been engaged in the silver fox farming for twenty years and has four farms. He is now forming a $500,000 corporation in Minneapolis. He has sold three pairs of foxes from his farms to Dr. and Mrs. Spahr and will ship them here as soon as the pens are ready to receive them.

He states that he believes this locality will prove very favorable to the raising of the silver foxes as they do well wherever the ordinary red foxes thrive.

Fine silver fox pelts bring almost fabulous prices and if Dr. and Mrs. Spahr are successful in their new venture they will have opened up a most valuable new industry for this locality.

CITY WOULD SELL OLD WORK HOUSE PROPERTY; BODY ACTS

The passing of Xenia's Work House abandoned for penal purposes several years ago, will be rendered complete with the sale of the property, if an ordinance placed on its first reading by the City Commission Thursday night is passed and its provisions carried out.

The ordinance provides that sealed bids be received for the sale of the buildings and the property on which it is located to the highest bidder. The ordinance will be supplemented by a resolution to the same effect by the County Commissioners, as the property is owned jointly by the city and county.

Reading of the ordinance in the commission meeting Thursday night for the first time, resulted in the proposal to sell the property drawing fire from two of the commissioners. Commissioners A. D. DeHaven and Harry Fisher were those who attacked the plan. According to Commissioner Fisher there is no reason for selling except that the county commissioners want to get the county's money out of the property. He held that the property is self supporting, and that by raising the rent that it might be made to realize something for the city, thereby representing a good investment. Final arguments on the question, however, will not develop until the ordinance is placed on its second reading for passage.

The Work House was erected in 1882-83 at a cost of $8,000 by the city and county, and it was operated jointly until its abandonment as a penal institution. For years the Work House accepted prisoners from Shelby, Miami, Clarke, Ross, Fayette, Clinton, Warren, Champaign and Logan Counties on contract. The first superintendent of the institution was Major George A. Barnes, succeeded in turn by Norman S. Tiffany, John Eyer, Elmer Todd, John Brewer, Moses R. Brannum, Joshua Yeo, R. R. Graves, James B. Marshall and D. E. Crow. After the city manager form of government was adopted here, the city manager became official superintendent of the institution, with a steward in charge the latter position being occupied for a time by James Horne before it was abandoned.

The state law rendering it illegal prison-made products to be sold in competition with the products of free labor, made the work house a burden after it had been self-supporting for years. Up to that time the prisoners were employed making brooms. Later the prisoners were used on city street cleaning work until the place was abandoned as a work house altogether. It is now occupied by E. H. Hunt, who leased it from the city and manufactures brooms there.

LAST DAY OF COOKING SCHOOL FINDS MCKINLEY AUDITORIUM CROWDED TO CAPACITY; UNDERTAKING IS BIG SUCCESS

The McKinley school auditorium was taxed to the limit of its capacity at the last day of The Gazette and The Republican Cooking School, Friday afternoon. The interest that has marked the school from its opening session, Tuesday, reached its highest pitch Thursday, when women of the city and county filled every available seat and standing room and were even placed on the stage.

After the demonstrations on cake baking and icings by the four Home Economic experts. The prizes of baskets of groceries and flour that have been given away daily were awarded. Mrs. Lester Harner, R. F. D. No. 3, Xenia; Mrs. Fannie Moore, 422 N. Galloway Street; Mrs. C. W. Tindall, 223 West Church Street; Mrs. Daisy LaFollette, 508 Cincinnati Avenue. The following women were given sacks of flour: Mrs. Mary L. Collins, 258 North Detroit Street; Mrs. Edwin Buck, 225 Union Street; Mrs. Carrie L. Fligter, Yellow Springs; Mrs. R. P. Harper, 247 North King Street; and Mrs. Ida McCann, 630 East Church Street.

The giving away of a handsome, all-white Sellers Kitchen cabinet by the J. A. Beatty Furniture Store, Friday, was an attractive feature for feminine followers of the school. The cabinet will be given away following the regular awarding of baskets of groceries and flour.

A wealth of ideas on how to make tempting salads was given by the four experts in charge of the school Friday afternoon. The importance of the salad as a part of the dinner was emphasized by Dr. R. B. Shives, head of the cooking school faculty, who said that they were not considered important formerly but now they are, because of the number of vitamins they have been found to contain. He said that salad is served as an appetizer for dessert after eating a heavy meat course.

Dr. Shives recipe for mayonnaise is as follows:
One tsp. salt, one tsp. sugar, one tsp. dry mustard, mixed together and to that one tsp. lemon juice added; mix through and add yolk of egg pour out half a pint of Mazola and add it to dressing by teaspoonsful, thoroughly mixing through with a wooden spoon or fork, every teaspoonful, alternating occasionally with a teaspoonful of lemon juice until three tablespoonsful are used. Vinegar may be substituted for the lemon juice but the latter makes thicker mayonnaise. One tablespoonful of tarragon vinegar, may be substituted for one tablespoonful of lemon juice.

THOUSAND ISLAND DRESSING
To one cup of mayonnaise add: one hard boiled egg, chopped fine one sweet pickle minced, six sliced stuffed olives, two tablespoons chili sauce, one tablespoon pimento.

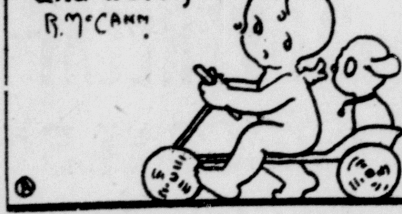

RUSSIAN DRESSING
One cup mayonnaise, one half cup diced celery, one half cup grated New York cream cheese, one sweet pickle minced, six plain olives minced, one table spoon tomato sauce. All salads should be served ice cold.

TARTAR SAUCE
One half cup mayonnaise, one tablespoon chopped chives, one table spoon chopped parsley, one table spoon chopped olives, one table spoon chopped capers, one table spoon chopped sweet pickles. Tartar sauce is served with fish, lobster, crabs, frog's legs and fried oysters.

FRENCH DRESSING
One half teaspoon salt, one half teaspoon sugar, one fourth teaspoon paprika, six table spoons Mazola. Stir altogether, then add two table spoons lemon juice or vinegar. This dressing can also be served on all kinds of salads.

SHIVES MANHATTAN SALAD DRESSING

To the French dressing add: one tablespoon of Tarragon vinegar; two table spoons Heinz's Indian Reliah two table spoons of Chili sauce, two tomato catsup, one hard boiled egg diced, one teaspoon Worcestershire sauce. This dressing can be used on shredded cabbage, lettuce, tuna fish, salad, shrimp salad, salmon salad, or for sauce with fried oysters.

CRITICS SALAD
One cup shredded cabbage, one cup diced pineapple, one half cup diced marshmallows. Serve on a bed of lettuce with mayonnaise.

A Stenographer's Romance

BY JANE PHELPS

THE BOARDERS CONGRATULATE NELLIE

It had become known in the boarding house that Nellie was to marry Mr. Fallon. Most of the boarders were kind and congratulated her nicely. Miss Pitt, true to her acid disposition, however, added after saying a few conventional words:

"Such marriages aren't always happy. I have always believed a woman should marry in her own class."

"And what would you consider my class?" Nellie asked, annoyed.

"Why—a stenographer like yourself, or a bookkeeper perhaps. Then there are many men in trades who are far more suitable husbands for a working girl than a rich society man. That is only my opinion, of course."

"Of course! You never have tried either class I notice." Nellie seldom answered now in her old impudent way; but Miss Pitt always made her uncomfortable, and this time she had hit upon a sensitive point with Nellie.

"No, I cared too much for my independence," Miss Pitt quickly replied. "Marriage is a sort of slavery, at best—for a woman. Naturally, I have had my chances," she pursued her lips, "but I said, I am too fond of my independence."

"Naturally—no one would ever think you would be passed by men looking for an agreeable wife," Nellie returned, then sorry she had been so disagreeable she added:

"Thank you, Miss Pitt, for your good wishes."

Mrs. Roberts always breakfasted in her room and she asked Nellie to join her while she remained in the house.

"It will give us a chance for a little chat before you begin on your sewing," she said kindly. She was a bit worried over Nellie. She didn't seem as happy as she had when she first announced her engagement. Not that she acted actively unhappy. It was more as if she were worried over something.

"No matter how long I live or what happens I never shall forget how kind you have been to me," Nellie said impulsively to Mrs. Roberts. "No mother could be kinder to her own daughter—the mothers I have known anyway."

"I feel almost like a mother toward you, dear," Mrs. Roberts replied. "You have brought a new interest in to an old woman's life. If I have helped you, you have also helped me. So we are as men say, 'quits.'"

Mr. Fallon came often to carry Nellie away for an hour or two. He was as kind, as loving as ever, perhaps more so. His gifts came as usual, and he still complained that Nellie would take so little from him. He had met Mrs. Roberts and had liked her at once; told Nellie she was fortunate, that he was pleased she had such a friend.

Mrs. Roberts said to him: "Nellie has brought a great deal of brightness into an old woman's life in the last few months, Mr. Fallon. I know she will into yours. I have learned to love her very dearly."

"No one could help loving her I think," he had replied.

Mrs. Roberts at times talked rather seriously to Nellie, especially since she had noticed the worried expression so often on her face. She had asked no questions, sure that in time Nellie would confide in her. It was probably some trifling matter; another faux pas when out with Mr. Fallon perhaps. During one of their breakfast talks she said:

"Without great love between a man and a woman, Nellie dear, there is no essential happiness; the unavoidable association, so constant, the pin pricks, the large and small worries and annoyances which cannot be done away with entirely are unbearable. To my mind two great wrongs are perpetrated when two people are not suited to each other; who, without great love for and understanding of each other, marry. A woman wrongs herself, her better nature; she wrongs and cheats the man and—also if there are children she wrongs them. I feel very keenly on this subject, Nellie. I have seen so much unhappiness from ill-matched marriages, marriages without deep love and respect.

After Nellie left Mrs. Roberts she thought of what she had said. She loved George Fallon. He loved her. But would the little pin-pricks Mrs. Roberts spoke of, the difference in their station make him lose his love—make a difference in hers, when she found she couldn't meet his expectations? He had spoken of how happy he would be to have a mistress as well as a master in his beautiful home; had talked of her assuming her duties as a hostess to his many society friends.

"Can I ever do it? Won't he be ashamed of me?" she asked herself over and over when alone. Yet in two weeks more she was to be married.

P. T. A. MAY BUY SCALES FOR SCHOOLS TO WEIGH CHILDREN

The proposition of each Parent-Teacher's Association or Mothers' Circle, of the Xenia City Schools, combined in the city Federation, of purchasing and installing regular physicians' scales in the respective schools and having each child of the first, second and third grades, weighed and measured regularly, was submitted to the members of the school organizations, in session at the McKinley Building, Thursday afternoon, by Superintendent of City Schools C. A. Waltz.

The meeting of the Federated Association which is composed of the mothers' and teachers' organization of Orient Hill, Central, and McKinley, was the first held this year.

The proposition submitted to the members by Superintendent Waltz, is in connection with the plan to have each of the children of the three grades mentioned who are found to be underweight or under height, to be given special care and attention. If, after they are weighed and examined they have been found to be abnormal the plan, as suggested at the meeting, Thursday, to furnish each child, with a half pint of milk and two graham crackers at ten thirty o'clock each morning. At the end of the week the child will be weighed again and will be continued to be fed on the milk and wafers, until he is normal.

The plan is carried out in one of the largest schools of the country, with the result, that within three months' time, those suffering from malnutrition gained sixty per cent. The plan has met with the approval of each member of the circle present at the meeting, and committees will be appointed at once to attend to the purchases and establishment of the scales, and the remaining details of the plan. It was decided by the members to have the parents of the children to pay four cents a day if they were financially able, in order to secure sufficient money to carry out the plan.

At least fifty dollars will be furnished by each school organization to furnish equipment for the playgrounds of the respective schools, it was decided at the meeting in connection with a suggestion that each circle immediately purchase equipment for the playgrounds. The suggestion that a movement be started immediately by the Federated Association for a dental clinic in the schools, met with the approval of the organization.

It was definitely decided at the meeting that the Xenia City School Board will handle the Opportunity School, without the assistance of any circle. If the School Board becomes in need of assistance the Federation has pledged its support, coinciding with the slogan of the organization. "Co-operation between parents and teachers to give help when needed, and to promote better understanding of the schools."

Twenty-seven thousand mothers and teachers of Ohio are bound together in the Parent-Teachers' Associations standing fourth in the national organization.

Mrs. M. L. Wolf was appointed to represent the city Federated organization, at the state P. T. A. Convention, in Columbus, October 11, other delegates from each other school organization to be appointed later.

ORGANIZATION WORK FOR JUDGE ALLEN IS BEGUN IN COUNTY

Despite the cooking class and various other interesting meetings which were called for Thursday afternoon a group of leaders here in Xenia came together with Helen M. Becht of Cincinnati, Ohio and talked over plans for organization work for Judge Florence E. Allen of Cleveland, independent candidate for the Supreme Court of Ohio. Judge Allen is now on the Common Pleas Court bench in Cleveland.

"If may interest people to know," Miss Becht said, "that Miss Allen secured more than twice as many signatures to her petition as she needed and that in her own county she secured almost as many as she needed throughout the state. This does not mean that the work is done—for we now are asking for the support of every one of these same signers and for that of his friends as well."

"The meeting Thursday showed that there was nothing wrong with the interest or the preparedness of the Greene County women and they give every assurance of Judge Allen's election as one of Greene County's choices. There are, of course, two judges to be elected," said Miss Becht. On Saturday night, Sept. 30, Judge Allen will speak in Wilmington at the Court House Auditorium. The address will be given at 7:30 in the evening, and Wilmington opens its doors to as many people from Xenia as possibly can arrange to come.

DISPLAY SILVER FOX FUR HERE WHILE SEEING LOCAL FARM

A beautiful silver fox fur, valued at $850.00 is attracting much attention in the window of the Jobe Brothers' store. The fur, is the property of Frank F. Tuplin, of near Grand Rapids, Mich., the owner of extensive silver fox farms, who spent Friday in this city with Dr. and Mrs. D. E. Spahr who are arranging a fox farm on their property near the water works north of this city.

Mr. Tuplin states that one reason why the silver fox fur is so expensive is because of the fact that the silver fox in the wild state is almost extinct, and because it is impossible to imitate the genuine silver fox fur. The silver hairs that seem overlay the black fur, and give the effect of a mixed fur, are in fact black hairs banded with white, the tips being black. Mr. Tuplin says that, the banded fur cannot be imitated by even the most skillful fur workers.

Mr. Tuplin has been engaged in the silver fox farming for twenty years and has four farms. He is now forming a $500,000 corporation in Minneapolis. He has sold three pairs of foxes from his farms to Dr. and Mrs. Spahr and will ship them here as soon as the pens are ready to receive them.

He states that he believes this locality will prove very favorable to the raising of the silver foxes as they do well wherever the ordinary red foxes thrive.

Fine silver fox pelts bring almost fabulous prices and if Dr. and Mrs. Spahr are successful in their new venture they will have opened up a most valuable new industry for this locality.

CITY WOULD SELL OLD WORK HOUSE PROPERTY; BODY ACTS

The passing of Xenia's Work House abandoned for penal purposes several years ago, will be rendered complete with the sale of the property, if an ordinance placed on its first reading by the City Commission Thursday night is passed and its provisions carried out.

The ordinance provides that sealed bids be received for the sale of the buildings and the property on which it is located to the highest bidder. The ordinance will be supplemented by a resolution to the same effect by the County Commissioners, as the property is owned jointly by the city and county.

Reading of the ordinance in the commission meeting Thursday night for the first time, resulted in the proposal to sell the property drawing fire from two of the commissioners. Commissioners A. D. DeHaven and Harry Fisher were those who attacked the plan. According to Commissioner Fisher there is no reason for selling except that the county commissioners want to get the county's money out of the property. He held that the property is self-supporting, and that by raising the rent that it might be made to realize something for the city, thereby representing a good investment. Final arguments on the question, however, will not develop until the ordinance is placed on its second reading for passage.

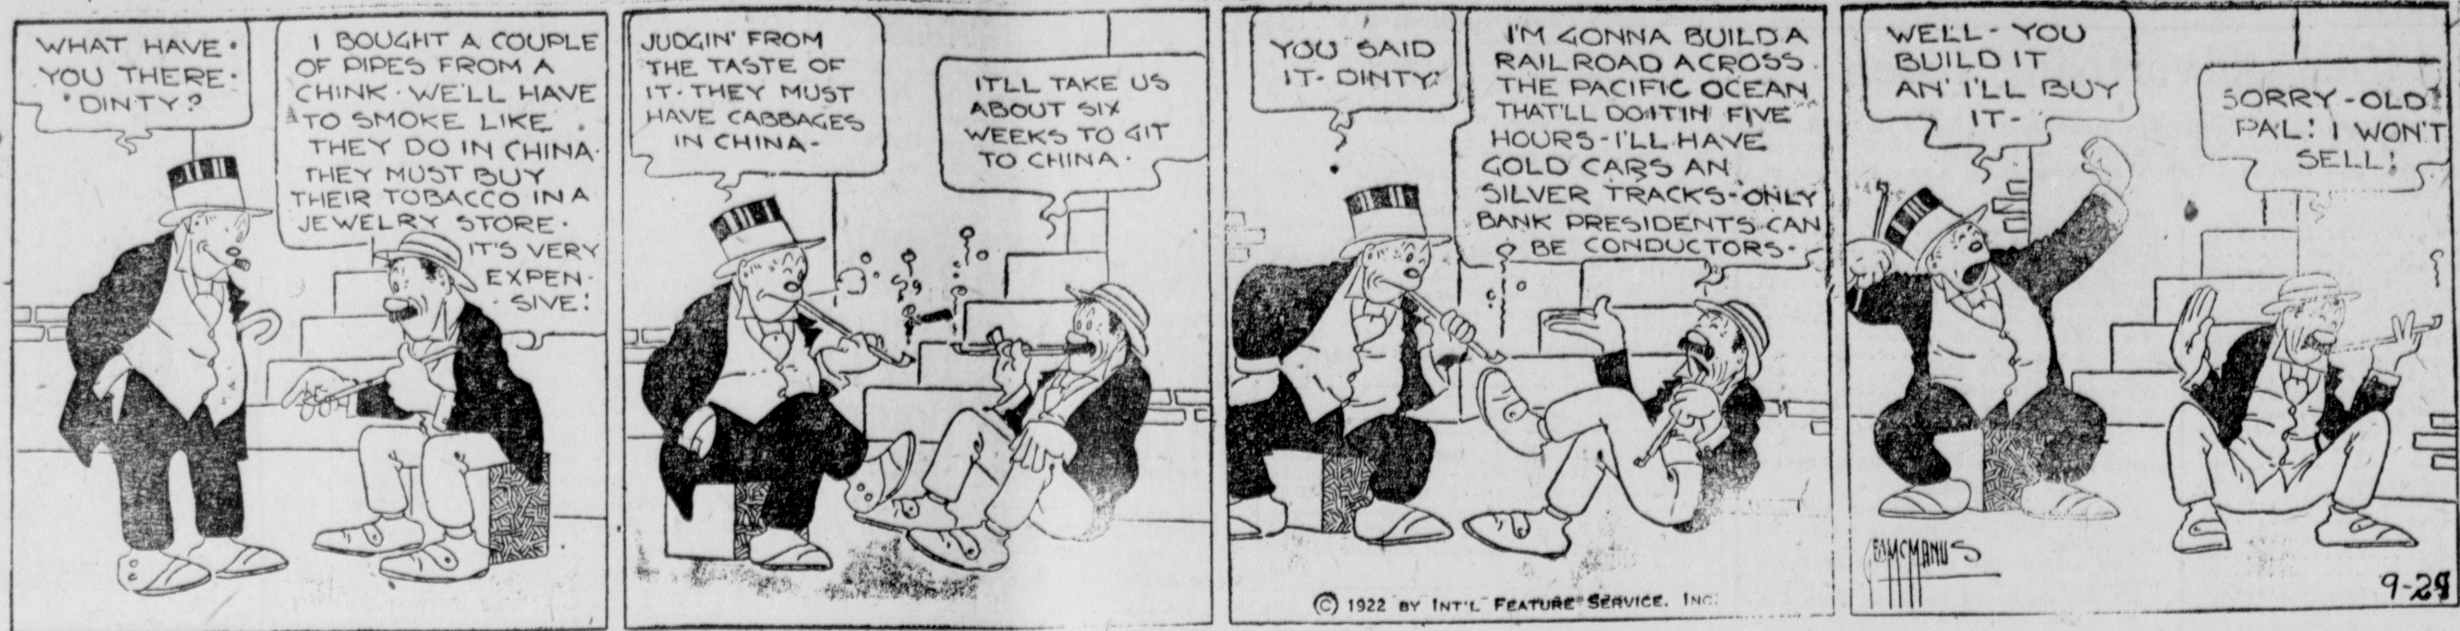

The Work House was erected in 1882-83 at a cost of $8,000 by the city and county, and it was operated jointly until its abandonment as a penal institution. For years the Work House accepted prisoners from Shelby, Miami, Clarke, Ross, Fayette, Clinton, Warren, Champaign and Logan Counties on contract. The first superintendent of the institution was Major George A. Barnes, succeeded in turn by Norman S. Tiffany, John Eyer, Elmer Todd, John Brewer, Moses R. Brannum, Joshua Yeo, R. R. Grieves, James B. Marshall and D. E. Crow. After the city manager form of government was adopted here, the city manager became official superintendent of the institution, with a steward in charge the latter position being occupied for a time by James Horne before it was abandoned.

The state law rendering it illegal prison-made products to be sold in competition with the products of free labor, made the work house a burden after it had been self-supporting for years. Up to that time the prisoners were employed making brooms. Later the prisoners were used on city street cleaning work until the place was abandoned as a work house altogether. It is now occupied by E. H. Hunt, who leased it from the city and manufactures brooms there.

LAST DAY OF COOKING SCHOOL FINDS MCKINLEY AUDITORIUM CROWDED TO CAPACITY; UNDERTAKING IS BIG SUCCESS

The McKinley school auditorium was taxed to the limit of its capacity at the last day of The Gazette and The Republican Cooking School, Friday afternoon. The interest that has marked the school from its opening session, Tuesday, reached its highest pitch Thursday, when women of the city and county filled every available seat and standing room and were even placed on the stairs.

After the demonstrations on cake baking and icings by the four Home Economic experts. The prizes of baskets of groceries and flour that have been given away daily were awarded. Grocery baskets were given Mrs. Robert Luce, 108 Cincinnati Avenue; Mrs. Lester Harner, R. F. D. No. 3 Xenia; Mrs. Fannie Moore, 422 N. Galloway Street; Mrs. C. W. Tindall, 223 West Church Street; Mrs. Daisy LaFollette, 508 Cincinnati Avenue.

The following women were given sacks of flour: Mrs. Mary L. Collins, 258 North Detroit Street; Mrs. Edwin Buck, 225 Union Street; Mrs. Carrie L. Flatter, Yellow Springs; Mrs. R. F. Harper, 247 North King Street; and Mrs. Ida McCann, 630 East Church Street.

The giving away of a handsome, all-white Sellars Kitchen cabinet by the J. A. Beatty Furniture Store, Friday, was an attractive feature for genuine followers of the school. The cabinet will be given away following the regular awarding of baskets of groceries and flour.

A wealth of ideas on how to make tempting salads was given by the four experts in charge of the school Friday afternoon. The importance of the salad as a part of the dinner was emphasized by Dr. R. B. Shives, head of the cooking school faculty, who said that they were not considered important formerly but now they are, because of the number of vitamins they have been found to contain. He said that salad is served as an appetizer for dessert after eating a heavy meat course.

Dr. Shives recipe for mayonnaise is as follows:

One tsp. salt, one tsp. sugar, one tsp. dry mustard, mixed together and to that one tsp. lemon juice added; mix through and add yolk of egg pour out half a pint of Mazola and add it to dressing by teaspoonsful, thoroughly mixing through with a wooden spoon or fork, every teaspoonful, alternating occasionally with a teaspoonful of lemon juice until three tablespoonsful are used. Vinegar may be substituted for the lemon juice but the latter makes thicker mayonnaise. One tablespoon of tarragon vinegar may be substituted for one tablespoonful of lemon juice.

THOUSAND ISLAND DRESSING.
To one cup of mayonnaise add: one hard-boiled egg, chopped fine; one sweet pickle minced; six sliced stuffed olives, two tablespoons chili sauce, one tablespoon pimento.

RUSSIAN DRESSING.
One cup mayonnaise, one half cup diced celery, one half cup grated New York cream cheese, one sweet pickle minced, six plain olives minced, one table spoon tomato sauce. All salads should be served ice cold.

TARTAR SAUCE.
One half cup mayonnaise, one tablespoon chopped chives, one table spoon chopped parsley, one table spoon chopped olives, one table spoon chopped capers, one table spoon chopped sweet pickles. Tartar sauce is served with fish, lobster, crabs, frogs' legs and fried oysters.

FRENCH DRESSING.
One half teaspoon salt, one half teaspoon sugar, one fourth teaspoon paprika, six table spoons Mazola. Stir altogether, then add two table spoons lemon juice or vinegar. This dressing can also be served on all kinds of salads.

SHIVES MANHATTAN SALAD DRESSING.
To the French dressing add: one table spoon of Tarragon vinegar; two table spoons Heinz's Indian Relish; two table spoons of Chili sauce, two tomato catsup, one hard-boiled egg diced, one teaspoon Worcestershire sauce. This dressing can be used on shredded cabbage, lettuce, tuna fish, salad, shrimp salad, salmon salad, or for sauce with fried oysters.

CRITIC'S SALAD.
One cup shredded cabbage, one cup diced pineapple, one half cup diced marshmallows. Serve on a bed of lettuce with mayonnaise.

A Stenographer's Romance

BY JANE PHELPS

THE BOARDERS CONGRATULATE NELLIE

It had become known in the boarding house that Nellie was to marry Mr. Fallon. Most of the boarders were kind and congratulated her nicely. Miss Pitt, true to her acid disposition, however, added after saying a few conventional words:

"Such marriages aren't always happy. I have always believed a woman should marry in her own class."

"And what would you consider my class?" Nellie asked, annoyed.

"Why—a stenographer like yourself, or a bookkeeper perhaps. Then there are many men in trades who are far more suitable husbands for a working girl than a rich society man. That is only my opinion, of course."

"Of course! You never have tried either class I notice." Nellie seldom answered now in her old impudent way; but Miss Pitt always made her uncomfortable, and this time she had hit upon a sensitive point with Nellie.

"No, I cared too much for my independence," Miss Pitt quickly replied. "Marriage is a sort of slavery at best—for a woman. Naturally, I have had my chances," she pursed her lips, "but I said, I am too fond of my independence."

"Naturally—no one would ever think you would be passed by men looking for an agreeable wife," Nellie returned, then sorry she had been so disagreeable she added:

"Thank you, Miss Pitt, for your good wishes."

Mrs. Roberts always breakfasted in her room and she asked Nellie to join her while she remained in the house.

"It will give us a chance for a little chat before you begin on your sewing," she said kindly. She was a bit worried over Nellie. She didn't seem as happy as she had when she first announced her engagement. Not that she acted actively unhappy. It was more as if she were worried over something.

"No matter how long I live or what happens I never shall forget how kind you have been to me," Nellie said impulsively to Mrs. Roberts. "No mother could be kinder to her own daughter—the mothers I have known anyway."

"I feel almost like a mother toward you, dear," Mrs. Roberts replied. "You have brought a new interest into an old woman's life. If I have helped you; you have also helped me. So we are as men say, 'quits.'"

Mr. Fallon came often to carry Nellie away for an hour or two. He was as kind, as loving as ever, perhaps more so. His gifts came as usual, and he still complained that Nellie would take so little from him. He had met Mrs. Roberts and had liked her at once; told Nellie she was fortunate, that he was pleased she had such a friend.

Mrs. Roberts said to him: "Nellie has brought a great deal of brightness into an old woman's life in the last few months, Mr. Fallon. I know she will into yours. I have learned to love her very dearly."

"No one could help loving her I think," he had replied.

Mrs. Roberts at times talked rather seriously to Nellie, especially since she had noticed the worried expression so often on her face. She had asked no questions, sure that in time Nellie would confide in her. It was probably some trifling matter; another faux pas when out with Mr. Fallon perhaps. During one of their breakfast talks she said:

"Without great love between a man and a woman, Nellie dear, there is no essential happiness; the unavoidable association, so constant, the pin pricks, the large and small worries and annoyances which cannot be done away with entirely are unbearable. To my mind two great wrongs are perpetrated when two people are not suited to each other; who, without great love for and understanding of each other, marry. A woman wrongs herself, her better nature; she wrongs and cheats the man and—also if there are children she wrongs them. I feel very keenly on this subject, Nellie. I have seen so much unhappiness from ill-mated marriages, marriages without deep love and respect.

After Nellie left Mrs. Roberts she thought of what she had said. She loved George Fallon. He loved her. But would the little pin-pricks Mrs. Roberts spoke of, the difference in their station make him lose his love—make a difference in hers, when she found she couldn't meet his expectations? He had spoken of how happy he would be to have a mistress as well as a master in his beautiful home; had talked of her assuming her duties as a hostess to his many society friends.

"Can I ever do it? Won't he be ashamed of me?" she asked herself over and over when alone. Yet in two weeks more she was to be married.
